FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 10, 186

TRAVELLING AGENT.

[illegible]

By Telegraph.

The [illegible] published yesterday of details [of the] victory won by the Army of the Potomac is reaffirmed by the dispatches of this morning. The battle was fought with great vigor [on] both sides—there being an apparent determination to settle affairs from the first blow—but though our loss was immense and especially severe in officers, the rebel force was compelled to abandon their chosen position. The fight [illegible] was not [illegible] and we presume we shall hear that it was resumed and continued till next day with equal, perhaps with greater pertinacity than is now reported. God grant it may have been thoroughly successful for the right and liberty!

There are many other items in the dispatches and in the reports from the Sacramento [illegible] which will be read with interest by our readers. The crisis of the life of the nation seems to hang up on the sublime results of the actions now passing upon it. Every loyal heart must be anxious that these results shall be favorable and enduring in their consequences upon the destinies of the country.

NORTH CAROLINA REBELS GRUMBLING.—The Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, the special organ of Governor Vance and the organ of the opposition party in that State, which is now in the ascendency by a two thirds vote, in commenting upon an article from the Richmond Enquirer, favoring an "imperial despotism" like that of France, says:

We know that military despotism is making rapid strides in these States; we know that a people never lost their liberties at once, but step by step, as some deadly disease steals upon the system and gradually, but surely, saps the fountains of life; we know that tyrants and their minions always prepare the popular mind in advance for their usurpations, and that these usurpations are always based upon the plea of the general good or military necessity.

The argument now is, we hate Lincoln so bitterly that in order to resist him successfully we must make slaves of ourselves. The answer of our people is: We will be slaves neither to Lincoln, nor Davis, nor France, nor England. North Carolina is a State not a province. She has 80,000 as brave troops as ever trod the earth. When she calls them they will come. If the worst should happen, she will be able to take care of herself as an independent power. She will not submit, in any event, to a law of Congress passed in deliberate violation of the Constitution.

She will not submit to Mr. Davis being invested with dictatorial power, but she will resist such a blow by withdrawing from the Confederation, and she will fight her way out against all comers, with courage and with an ardor which will eclipse even any former achievement of her sons during the existing war. For one we are determined not to exchange one despotism for another.

Other opposition papers are also coming down rather heavy on "the destructives."—The Henderson (N. C.) Times, in speaking of the approaching Congressional election, has the following:

Beware of the Destructives! They are the fag ends of the old defunct Democratic party, who fight their battles in bar-rooms or in the shade. They aided and precipitated the Cotton States into a revolution which has made a breastwork of North Carolina, Virginia and Missouri.

Let them be anathema maranatha. Give them the reins of government, and after peace they will quickly carry us to perdition. Let them be marked as deeply as Cain was, for they cannot be trusted in politics as far as an ox could be thrown by the tail.

COLONEL GRIERSON, the cavalry officer who recently made a famous raid through Mississippi, has been making a speech in New Orleans, in which he said:

In passing through the Confederacy I have had a good opportunity to form a correct opinion of its strength. That strength has been over estimated. They have neither the armies nor the resources we have given them credit for, and we have been greatly deceived in regard to to the means and power of the rebels. Passing through their country—and the passage was not a very difficult one—I found thousands of good Union men, who are ready and anxious to return to their allegiance the moment they can do so with safety to themselves and families. They will rally around the old flag, by scores, whenever our army advances. I could have brought away a thousand with me, who were anxious to come—men whom I found fugitives from their homes hid in the swamps and forests, where they are hunted like wild beasts by the rebel conscripting officers with blood hounds. Having visited them in their own homes, I have founded my belief upon what I heard and saw there that the day is not far distant when we shall witness the downfall of the rebellion and the restoration of the Union as it was.

The tri-weekly mail from Dalles to Walla Walla commenced on the 1st. It leaves Dalles every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, reaching Walla Walla on the fifth day.

Farmers are harvesting in Walla Walla valley. Harvest hands are scarce. The grain crops will fall far short of the usual yield for the number of acres sown.

The steamer Col. Wright is to be sent up to Lewiston to run between that point and Pittsburg Landing.

WHAT THE REBELS THINK OF VALLANDIGHAM.—We copy the following from the correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial:

A gentleman of our acquaintance a few days since, had a conversation with a number of highly intelligent rebel officers, being at the time within the Confederate lines. They asked: "What has been done with Vallandigham?" The reply was—"I do not know. His trial was not concluded when I left Ohio. The presumption is that he will be found guilty of the charges preferred, and sent to you."

"Sent to us!" the Confeds exclaimed, somewhat startled by the suggestion. "Why, what do we want with him? We don't want anything to do with him." "Why not?" the gentleman inquired; "he is all right, surely. It is a plain case that he belongs to you."

"We don't claim any such man," was their response. "We have more respect for men like you, who are for the war against us. He makes no proposition at all that touches the case. He says he never will consent to the recognition of the Southern Confederacy; and we are determined that it shall be recognized. That is what we are fighting for. Well, we'll probably send him to you. We do not want him with us." "But," said the secesh, "he does better where he is for us. He is splitting you up and is useful in the North. He would not pay for his keeping here."

We give this conversation exactly as it was related to us by the gentleman from Ohio who took part in it. The place where it occurred was on the south bank of the [illegible], near the United States Ford. The indignation of the friends of Mr. Vallandigham will probably be abated by the disposition that has been made of him. The butternuts of the Northwest have for some time been anxious to open communications direct with Richmond. They ought to be satisfied with the representative who has been sent in that direction, and to look upon his mission as a conservative symptom of the policy of the President. The radicals, we suppose, will regard the whole affair as a trick of Seward's to open communication with Jeff. Davis.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON RAILROAD SURVEY.—The expedition which has been fitting out in this city to survey a route for a railroad from Marysville, California, to Portland, Oregon, left this city yesterday morning. The party consisted of thirteen persons, provided with three commodious wall tents, a four horse wagon loaded with supplies, and all the necessary implements, arms and camp furniture. The party is well selected and provided, and will give a good account of itself. The marking of the allignment and traughting for the road as far as Shasta will be easy and rapid work, as it is over level ground. At Shasta the party will be joined by Mr. Belden and others from Oregon. The route from that point will continue up the Sacramento to Shasta Valley, at the head of that stream, the gradients being easy and gradual. The principal difficulties will be encountered at Siskiyou mountains, between Shasta Valley and Rogue River Valley, but they are much less than have to be overcome by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, since Shasta Valley has an altitude of some 4,000 feet, and the height above it of the Siskiyou mountains is much less, therefore, than the height of Truckee Pass above the Sacramento Valley. Once over the Siskiyou mountains, the line of the road will proceed through that succession of beautiful level valleys which constitute the agricultural heart of Oregon. The distance from Marysville to Portland is about 600 miles. The projectors of the enterprize, both in this State and Oregon, are as well aware of its magnitude and cost as of its feasibility and necessity, and they do not enter upon this preliminary survey with an expectation of being able to rush the rails immediately in its wake. They mean to have a survey which will demonstrate the necessity and practicability of a railroad traversing the great valleys of two States in a straight, continuous line, touching at all the towns on this coast between Sacramento and Portland, with tide water communication by rail from Marysville to Vallejo, and forming the most direct, speedy and cheap means of transportation for the produce and travel of upper California and all of Oregon, and for the great stream of travel that is already beginning to flow between this State and the gold fields of Oregon, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia. It is believed that a report establishing this, explained and urged by the representatives of the two States, will secure to Congress like liberal grants in aid of the California and Oregon Railroad to those which were allowed the Central Pacific Railway.

When the latter enterprize was broached and our Mr. Elliott made the first survey for it, there were very few who believed it practicable and would subscribe a few hundred dollars to pay the expense of a survey and sending an agent to Washington. That was only two or three years ago, and now the grade of the Central Pacific is being rapidly constructed, the iron rails are coming by ship loads, and the project has national, State and county aid. The no less important project just initiated at Marysville will meet with similar success if pushed with courage, energy and intelligence. The construction of the road is, in any event, only a question of time, and the rapid development of the northern mines will shorten that time to the surprise of the most sanguine. If no other result should immediately follow the survey we have commenced, its publication of the resources and advantages of the northern valleys, mines and forests, will alone be a benefit fully commensurate to the expense incurred.—Marysville Appeal.

SECESSION AMBITIONS.—The Nevada Transcript is responsible for the following:

A prominent secessionist of this county, one who figures in the new coalition movement, was asked the other day what his party expected to do if they carried this State. "Do?" said he, "why, we will open negotiations with the Confederate Congress to receive commissioners from this State, to treat for an alliance offensive and defensive." "But," said the interrogator, "the United States will interfere to break up such an arrangement." "We are not afraid of that," said secesh; "the United States, as you call them, have their hands full now. We can very soon whip out the little force they have in this State, and they have no navy on the Pacific that could withstand the Alabama for a day." "But," said inquirer again, "the people of the State will not stand such proceedings." "Don't you fear that," said copperhead; "if the majority of the State go with us when the issue is so plainly made for or against the government, they will go further. Some of those who vote with us may not like such effective aid to the cause of the Confederacy, but they will be a minority of our party, and can be controlled. As to your party, we believe Conness told the truth when he declared you wouldn't either drink or fight. At any rate we'll take the chances." "But where are your arms for such a contest?" said inquirer. "That," said secesh, "is a secret we keep to our ourselves."

HARRISBURG, July [illegible].—It is reported that the [illegible] have returned [illegible] Carlisle and [illegible] the [illegible] of the town [illegible] Smith [illegible] refused to surrender. Maryland Heights have been evacuated. Our [illegible] to [illegible] with the Meade.

JACKSON, MISS., June 29th.—Official dispatches from Gen. Taylor, dated Alexandria, La., June 23d, say he stormed and carried at the point of the bayonet, the enemy's works at Alexandria.

WASHINGTON, July 3d.—It was officially announced yesterday that drafted persons under the conscription act are exempt by paying $300.

PITTSBURG (Pa.), July 3d.—A dispatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer says Jeff. Davis is at Greencastle, Pa.

BALTIMORE, July 3d.—The [illegible] says that General Schenck has in his possession 2,400 prisoners in Baltimore and at the Relay House, taken in the battle of Wednesday. Nearly 1,000 of these were taken by the 11th corps.

[illegible], June [illegible].—Information from Vicksburg says the garrison is very active and will make a desperate resistance, in the hope that [illegible] will soon reach them. Probably an attempt will be made to capture Milliken's Bend to try to stop the navigation of the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, July 3d.—Headquarters Tullahoma, July 1st, via Murfreesboro, to Gen. Halleck: I telegraphed you June 28th of the occupation of Shelbyville and Manchester.—Gen. Thomas made a reconnoissance yesterday on two roads and Gen. McCook on the [illegible], reporting the enemy in force at this place with the addition of Buckner's division. On Monday morning, June 29th, the enemy had fallen back in haste in the night, leaving his strong fortifications, a small quantity of stores and siege guns, which fell into our possession.

BALTIMORE, July 3d.—The American has the following: We learn from Maj. Bumgarden, of Gen. Reynold's staff, the following interesting particulars of the battle near Gettysburg, Pa., July 1st:

Gen. Meade took a most advantageous position for either attack or defense. At 9 o'clock Thursday morning the 1st and 5th corps reached Gettysburg, entering from the East side of the town, they marched directly thro'. On passing out of the West end of the town the rebels were observed advancing rapidly on the Chambersburg turnpike, with their line of battle toward town, apparently endeavoring to obtain advantage of the position commanding the town. The 1st corps under Reynolds, which was in advance, pushed forward on double quick to secure this position. The enemy under Longstreet and Hill advanced steadily, and in a few moments heavy firing of artillery opened. The 11th corps under Howard was also soon in position, and a heavy battle raged. At 3 o'clock p. m. the enemy massed their forces and endeavored to turn our right flank. A severe infantry fight ensued. After a volley of musketry being poured into their columns with deadly effect, the enemy fell back. The field between the contending armies was strewn with dead and wounded. We hold the prominent and commanding positions for which the struggle was made, at the close of the fight, which ceased about 4 o'clock. Notwithstanding our severe loss of officers, the advantages of the day were considered as decidedly with our forces.

The Herald's dispatch, dated Harrisburg last night, says a column of 25,000 rebels passed through Billsburg, Thursday, July 2d, in the direction of Gettysburg. Another account from the front represents the condition of affairs at the close of the fight on Wednesday evening to have been unfavorable and far from promising of successful issue. Information received mentioned that the enemy held possession of Gettysburg for some time prior due to the approach of our army, and had not re-occupied it, but had commenced fortifying the hills west of the town, where they proposed to check our advance to Chambersburg and the mouth of the Cumberland valley. The recent movement of Gen. Reynolds, after entering the east end of the town, took them by surprise. He soon obtained those positions which the rebels were fortifying. Early in the afternoon both Longstreet and Hill combined their forces for a grand effort to turn our right flank. Gen. Howard's 11th corps most bravely repulsed these two veteran corps of the rebel army. The repulse was so complete that no further attempt was made by the enemy during the day.

The night closed in with our forces in possession of the ground chosen by the rebels on which to give us battle. When our informant left the field on Thursday, General Meade had arrived and the main body of our army was in position to pursue the enemy. The 11th army corps, in their charge on Longstreet's corps, is said at first to have slightly faltered, when Gen. Howard [illegible] to them, "[illegible] Chancellorsville." They then rushed furiously into the fight like devils. The whole line of rebels gave way before them.

NEW YORK, July 3.—A special to the [illegible] says the enemy are massing in heavy force on the left, and now (3:30 P. M.) have just begun the attack with artillery. There is every probability of a severe battle before dark.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says important advices were received at midnight of yesterday's battle. There seems to be but little doubt but that a brilliant victory has been won. The enemy were not only repulsed but several thousand taken prisoners. Our loss has been large, but the result so far as known is a decided success.

Special dispatches dated 2d say our forces are known to have gained on the enemy until 4 o'clock. Since then the firing has been rapid, and it is believed a general engagement had occurred.

We have [illegible] from the Union the following additional items:

Gold bars are quoted in San Francisco at 820. Money market easy. Legal tenders are 65 and 66.

Zeil, of Zeil, Bertheau & Co., has received a dispatch stating that a revolution had broken out in Prussia. It is well known that the present king has been desirous of increasing the army in opposition to the wishes of the Prussian Chambers, and has, in many instances, trod upon the constitutional rights of his people. The news, therefore, is not entirely unexpected. It is intimated that the insurrection is one of formidable proportions.

HARRISBURG, June 30.—A citizen who left Carlisle at 11 o'clock to-day, states that the rebel infantry, [illegible] strong, with 30 pieces of artillery, left this morning for Gettysburg. On his way he met nothing but cavalry pickets. During the stay of the rebels they occupied the barracks, grounds and the most prominent of the vacant buildings. Citizens were compelled to furnish rations as far as their means would admit. Rebel officers stated they did not design to burn the barracks, as they intended to return. But at three o'clock in the afternoon a loud explosion occurred in that direction, and it is believed they were blown up. Private property was generally respected, but shoe and drug stores were cleaned out. Some paid for the goods in greenbacks and a few in gold and silver. It is believed the main body of the rebel army is in the neighborhood of Shippensburg. They all state their destination to be Harrisburg, but thought it probable they might be compelled to fight the Army of the Potomac before reaching that place. The danger to Pennsylvania and the North is still imminent—everything depending upon the encounter between Lee and Meade. If his army should be defeated we have nothing except in the large army to be raised in the North.

NEW YORK, July 1.—A special dispatch to the Tribune, dated Lancaster, Pa., last night, says: The rebels have fallen back ten miles from Harrisburg. General Couch and staff crossed the Susquehanna to occupy the south bank of the river.

Meade occupied Hanover and York to-night, cutting the rebel lines in two. The rebels are rapidly concentrating at the interior. Pleasanton makes great havoc on the rear of the enemy's trains.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 30th.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was opened last night. The train which left this morning for [illegible] and Harper's Ferry has gone through without interruption.

The rebel cavalry which attacked a company of the First Delaware at Westminster, drove them toward Baltimore. It was doubtless the advance guard of Fitzhugh Lee's cavalry leading the way across the country to join the main rebel army in the vicinity of York. The Delaware cavalry made a most excellent fight with sabers and revolvers until the enemy appeared in overwhelming numbers. It is learned that the greater portion of them were killed, wounded or captured. Only 15 out of 110 reached Baltimore.

NEW YORK, July 1.—At a special meeting of the City Council last night, it was resolved to put the State Militia Law in force at once. Every citizen between 18 and 45 not physically disabled will be organized in companies, to be subject to the call of the governor in such numbers as he may require.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's correspondent, writing from Maryland Heights, June 28th, says: This place was visited by Gen. Hooker yesterday. After an examination he issued an order for the evacuation of the place and the destruction of such guns and stores as could not be removed. Information was sent to Gen. Halleck of what was done, whereupon Hooker received a dispatch countermanding the order and saying the fortifications cost too much to be given up unless under the most urgent necessity. He (Halleck) considered Harper's Ferry the key to the present and future operations of the army of the Potomac. Hooker's comment upon this was: "What was the use of holding on to the key after the door was smashed?" While on his way back he received an order removing him from command.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Richmond Enquirer has the following:

Jackson, Miss., June 25.—Colonel Ryans, commanding the cavalry outside Port Hudson, attacked Grierson in the rear of Banks' army yesterday, capturing 70 prisoners and 37 wagons, putting the remainder of the Yankees to flight.

DULL.—Since the excitement [illegible] business in Portland has been unusually dull. Our country cousins and visitors from surrounding cities have returned to their respective homes and [illegible] relapse into even more than usual [illegible]ness. Mining excitements have died [illegible] and the noisy, bustling crowds in thereto are seen no more. Speculation of every description is apparently dead, and active business fast asleep. A little stir is observable, however, when the steamer is expected from the Dalles, at which time a few energetic individuals might be observed strolling drowsily towards the landing, and on the arrival of the boat, the energetic individuals aforesaid may be seen spasmodically endeavoring to do something, but having signally failed therein, they despondently return when all is quiet again.

PORTLAND AND MILWAUKIE MACADAMIZED ROAD CO.—The Board of County Commissioners of Clackamas county yesterday authorized the above corporation to establish and maintain a ferry at its crossing opposite Milwaukie.

The application of Joseph Knott for a ferry from an acre of land owned by him near Milwaukie to the Indian reservation opposite was refused.

The rates of ferriage are about the same as those allowed for tolls on the Cason bridge across the Clackamas river.

EXPECTED.—The steamship Sierra Nevada, which sailed from San Francisco on the 7th instant, will be due at this port at an early hour this evening. She will bring two days' later intelligence than that published this morning via Yreka. If the steamer is not unavoidably detained, we shall be enabled to publish in our Saturday's issue full details of the late severe battles in Pennsylvania.

OUR FIREMEN GUESTS.—The Dalles Journal of yesterday very gratefully acknowledges the courtesies of our firemen and citizens, on the late visit of Jackson Co. No. 1. We are glad that all seem to have been so highly gratified with the efforts of our brave and gallant boys to make every thing pleasant and we trust that the sentiments of cordial good will manifested on both sides will never be forgotten or lose their effect.

THE THEATRE.—At the afternoon performance on Saturday, for the benefit of ladies and children, the interesting and attractive moral drama entitled "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be produced. At night the performances will commence with the melo drama "Six Degrees of Crime," concluding with the humorous farce called "Crowded Houses." Since the affable manager of the Willamette Theatre presents such bills, we would advise our readers to return the compliment with the concluding farce.

PERILS OF AMERICAN COMMERCE.—A London correspondent of an Eastern paper writes that "two powerful iron clad steamers I learn from an indisputable (secesh) source, have lately gone from the Clyde to China to prey on American tea ship after the style of the Alabama on the Atlantic. What course your merchants and naval authorities can take to avert the threatened danger I cannot see except by ordering the vessels all home that are there, by some unusual route. It will be useless to send out American war vessels to capture these pirates. First, because there are not probably not two sea-going steamers in the American navy that would be a match for these if they can be found. Secondly, there is no British consul, naval officer, diplomatist, merchant, pirate, adventurer, thief or scoundrel, from the Pillars of Hercules to Hong Kong, that would not act as spies and emissaries in behalf of the pirates and against the American cruisers. Pocket the swindling for a future settling day, and remember the deeds done till the good, Christian, amiable neighborly nation gets where you want him, then take it out of him in coin of your own choosing. A charming state of things certainly between the two countries, but who is responsible for it but Mr. Bull himself?"

MR. RAYNOR GAVE SATISFACTION ON THE SOUND.—J. O. Raynor was preceded here by a very strong prejudice, which was not confined to political opponents. So strong was that prejudice that the Union party, unquestionably largely in the majority in this county, despaired of electing him before he appeared in their midst in company with his competitors. The contrast was striking and effective. His able and stirring speech won over to him a host of friends and secured for him at once, beyond a doubt, the vote of Pierce county. He satisfied his hearers that he was not only conversant with their wants and interests, but that he had the energy and the disposition to properly represent them. He dwelt eloquently upon the war, its causes and its results, and displayed an ability which his antagonists signally failed to exhibit. He showed himself able as a debater, argumentative and logical, and worthy in every respect of the high position to which he has been called. He agreeably surprised all who heard him. Intellectually he is as far superior to Turney and Cole as they are to the Flat Head Indians of Puget Sound.—P. S. Herald.

NEARLY EVEN.—When the boys of Columbian No. 3, of Portland were on a visit at this place, some one of the mischievous cusses, "hooked" and carried to Portland, the lantern of Jackson No. 1—all in fun. Jacksons, however, were not to be out done, and when on board the Hunt Monday morning, they exhibited from their banner staff, a beautiful artificial wreath which they had captured from Columbians—and which is now ornamenting the Engine of the Jacksons—the countenances of Bill, John, Tom, Bob and all the [illegible] somewhat elongated. Never mind boys, the ladies can fix you another wreath, but [illegible] laugh is on our side now.—Dalles Journal.

EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, but especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates Immediately upon the Disease,
SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAN, Chester Co, Pa, Sept 15, 1858.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.
NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15, 1860.

L. W. TINELLI, Esq. New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful ruptures of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months; and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tinelli, with esteem, your servant and friend,
J. E. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well.
J. H. COPPMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co. Pa. July 23, 1858.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

A Melting Story

One winter evening a country store keeper in the Green Mountain State was about closing his doors for the night, and while standing out in the snow outside, putting up the window shutters, he saw through the glass a lounging fellow within grab up a pound of fresh butter from the shelf and deposit it in his hat.

The act was no sooner detected than the revenge hit upon, and a very few minutes found the store keeper at once indulging his appetite for fun to the fullest extent and paying off the thief with a facetious sort of torture, for which he might have gained a premium from the old Inquisition.

"I say, Seth," said the store keeper, coming in and closing the door after him, slapping his hand over his shoulders and stamping the snow off his feet.

Seth had his hand on the door, his hat on his head, and the roll of butter in his hat, anxious to make his exit as soon as possible.

"I say, Seth, sit down; I reckon now, on such an e-tarnal night as this, a little something warm wouldn't hurt a feller."

Seth felt very uncertain. He had the butter and was exceedingly anxious to be off, but the temptation of something warm sadly interfered with his resolution to go. This hesitation, however, was soon settled by the right owner of the butter taking Seth by the shoulders and planting him in a seat close to the stove, where he was in such a manner cornered in by the barrels and boxes, that there was but one way possible of getting out, and right in this, sure enough, the store keeper sat down.

"Seth, we'll have a little warm Santa Cruz," said the Green Mountain grocer, and he opened the stove door and stuffed in as many sticks as the space would admit; "without it you'd freeze going home such a night as this."

Seth already felt the butter settling down closer to his hair, and jumped up declaring he must go.

"Not till you've had something warm, Seth, so come—I've got a story to tell you too; so sit down now;" and Seth was again pushed into his seat by his cunning tormentor.

"Oh! it's tu darned hot here," said the petty thief, attempting to rise.

"Sit down—sit down—don't be in such a hurry," retorted the grocer, pushing him back into his seat.

"But I've got the cows to fodder, and some wood to split, and I must be going," said the persecuted chap.

"But you mustn't tear yourself away in this manner, Seth. Sit down; let the cows take care of themselves, and keep yourself cool; you appear to be fidgety," said the roguish grocer, with a wicked leer.

The next thing was the production of two smoking glasses of hot rum toddy, the very sight of which, in Seth's present situation would have made the hair stand erect on his head, had it not been well oiled and kept down by the butter.

"Seth, I'll give you a toast now, and you can butter it yourself," said the grocer, with such an air of consummate simplicity that poor Seth still believed himself unsuspected.

"Seth, here's a Christmas goose, well roasted and basted, eh? I tell you, that is the greatest eating in creation. And Seth, don't you never use hog's fat, or common cooking butter to baste with—come, take your toddy."

Poor Seth now began to smoke, as well as melt, and his mouth was hermetically sealed up as though he had been dumb. Streak after streak of the butter came pouring from under his hat, and his handkerchief was already soaked with the greasy overflow. Talking away as if nothing had happened, the grocer kept stuffing the wood into the stove, while poor Seth sat bolt upright, with his back against the counter and his knees almost touching the red hot furnace before him.

"Plaguéd cold night, this," said the grocer. "Why, Seth, you seem to perspire as if you were warm! Why don't you take your hat off? Here, let me put your hat away."

"No!" exclaimed poor Seth at last, with a spasmodic effort to get his tongue, clapping both hands upon his hat. "No, I must go! Let me out, I ain't well, let me go!"

A greasy cataract was now pouring down the poor fellow's face and neck, and soaking into his clothes, and his very boots, so that he was literally in a perfect bath of oil.

"Well, good night Seth," said the humorous Vermonter, "if you must go;" adding as he left, "neighbor, I reckon the fun I've had out of you is worth a ninepence, so I shan't charge you for that pound of butter."

FRIENDLY FOES.—Rappahannock correspondence of the New York Tribune says:

The rebel pickets taunt our men with the delay in capturing Vicksburg. They suggest that we shall have "a sweet time of it." A party from each side, lately, while bathing, swam towards each other, shook hands with a "how are you old fellow," in the middle of the river, and agreed to change positions for the time being. Our men, therefore, swam to the rebel shore, while their antagonists continued to this side. The latter then personated Yankees, shouting "How are you, secesh?" with many expletives not calculated for ears polite, and were answered by, "How are you pork and molasses? When are you going to pitch into us again?" After a friendly talk with those near by, both parties recrossed. This may seem odd among men engaged in killing each other, but private and professional life are two different matters. It is a demoniac rifle all one day and a friendly hand shaking the next.

"How do you get along with your arithmetic?" asked a father of his little boy.

"Oh, father!" exclaimed the delighted youngster, "I've ciphered through addition, partition, subtraction, distraction, abomination, justification, hallucination, damnation, and amputation."

There is said to be a girl somewhere in New York whose heart was so warm that it burnt through her bosom.

A FEMALE SYMPATHIZER.—Perhaps the most rampant butternut in these regions is a woman in Abington by the name of L——. She takes every occasion to taunt Union men and women in that portion of the Union party whom she calls "Abolitionists." A short time since some of her neighbors were going to attend a Union meeting in a neighboring town, and in derision she prepared an effigy of a negro baby and placed in her door, and then stationed herself by its side to see the effect the effigy would produce. When the neighbors arrived in front of her house and discovered her handiwork, they called a halt, and after gazing at it intently for a few moments, one of them remarked, "Mrs. L——, that is a very fine looking child of yours, and what a striking resemblance it bears to you! Is it your first or second child?" Our informant says that the indignant Mrs. L—— indulged in a series of gymnastic performances, ending up with giving the "nigger baby" a kick that sent it whizzing, and then retired into the house, shutting the door with a slam that made the windows rattle.—Plainfield (Ia.) Telegraph.

A ROAD ACROSS THE CONTINENT.—The British Government is taking active measures for the construction of a road across its northwestern possessions on this continent. A subsidy of twelve thousand five hundred pounds a year will be granted toward a road, and a large tract of land will be donated for the purpose of thus opening up the territories belonging to the British Government, and at the same time forming an opposition to our great Pacific road, which is already begun in California. We hope that our Administration will appreciate the importance of immediate action in this matter, and that the construction of the Pacific Railroad will be carried on with due activity. We shall always have an immense advantage over any road that may be constructed across the British Possessions, inasmuch as we shall be free from the intense cold weather which will render the operations of such a road extremely difficult at certain seasons of the year.—New York Herald, June 8th.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of Ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whiskey, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which, instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years' trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,

LAWYERS,

PHYSICIANS

CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?

Do you want a good appetite?

Do you want to build up your constitution?

Do you want to feel well?

Do you want to get rid of nervousness?

Do you want energy?

Do you want to sleep well?

Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
